

Follow-up Questions for Small Groups

Interview with Jo Anne Lyon

First ½ of Interview 0:00 – 35:38

1. What comes to mind when you hear Jo Anne explain justice and righteousness?
2. Have you ever seen the type of mass-famine Jo Anne described in her story from Ethiopia?
3. When was the last time you self-identified with someone struggling in life? How did you react or respond to that feeling?
4. Jo Anne spoke about a meeting she had scheduled that she almost cancelled, have you ever felt a nudge away from something you were planning? What did you do?
5. Have you ever had such a compelling confirmation like Jo Anne did? Perhaps not financially, but a strong confirmation none the less.
6. Have you ever seen evil? What did it look like?
7. Can you relate to the story of the amputated girl who said “my scars do not define me...I define them”?
8. What scars are you defining in your life?

Second ½ of Interview 35:39 – end

1. Could you ever imagine walking 8-10 kilometers to get water, water that cows use?
2. Have you ever felt like there was a resurrection day for you? When was that?
3. “Water is Life” What do you think about when you hear those words?
4. Have you ever thought about a correlation between clean water and human trafficking?
5. Have you ever prayed a prayer to overcome the evil of this world? What was the evil?
6. What about the traffickers; have you ever felt called to pray and help those who were the offenders?
7. How do you feel our country is doing in regards to human trafficking and clean water?
8. How do we have more transformational experiences and less transactional ones?
9. What are you feeling called to do?